Date: Friday, April 10, 2015

Time: 2:00-4:00 PM

Place: KH 102

1. Welcome – C. M. Sashi

Dr. Sashi, Chair of the Steering Committee, welcomed the College of Business full-time faculty to the spring Faculty Assembly Meeting and announced that there was a quorum. In accordance with the College Bylaws, the announcement was sent out at least 10 business days prior to the meeting.

2. Approval – Minutes of Fall Faculty Assembly (September 26, 2014)

The minutes for the fall meeting are posted on the Faculty Assembly page on the College website and the link provided to faculty with the meeting announcement. Dr. Sashi asked for any changes or corrections to the spring minutes. There being none, the minutes from the fall 2014 meeting were accepted as approved.

3. No-Grade Policy – Michelle Hawkins and Edward Pratt

Dean Pratt and Associate Provost Hawkins addressed the assembly on the newly instituted university-wide no-credit policy. The new policy is based on an analysis of the other SUS institutions is implemented automatically. The policy was designed in response to evaluation metrics in order to improve the student experience, allow students to explore majors, and keep students on track. This policy is only applicable to intellectual foundation courses for which only economics 1 and 2 in the COB are included.

Other policies recently modified include the late-withdrawal policy and a course repeat policy.

4. Student Success – Jenny Peluso

Dr. Peluso, assistant provost for student success, discussed current initiatives to improve student success and how faculty and departments can become involved. Faculty need to enter grades in Blackboard, take attendance, note activity / participation, give frequent / low-stakes assessments / feedback, and refer students to resources as needed. She also updated the assembly on the status of FAU's performance improvement plan.

5. University Faculty Senate – Chris Beetle

Dr. Beetle, incoming Faculty Senate president, addressed the assembly providing his view of the Senate's direction for his term. He wishes to continue working toward more joint governance of the university between the faculty and administration. He also indicated that faculty will need to be more engaged as a result.

6. Teaching Load Policy

Dr. Sashi discussed a draft teaching load policy that the Steering Committee prepared at the request of Dean Gropper. The draft policy established a 4 course nine month teaching load (typically implemented as a 2-2) for research-active faculty. The research active classification is linked to AACSB accreditation standards. Deviations from the base teaching load may be made for differing research productivity, service requirements, etc. Instructors have a higher base teaching load. Implementation of any teaching load policy is now in the hands of the Dean's office.

Dean Gropper then provided his views concerning the teaching load policy and supporting increased research productivity, given the constraints facing the university. The Dean supports the concept of a 2-2 teaching load for research active faculty but that measuring higher research productivity is key. Progress on the policy is being made, but the policy is not finalized yet.

7. Instructor Promotion Policy

Dr. Sashi discussed the instructor promotion policy previously adopted by the assembly. He then stated that there has been some misunderstanding and disagreements concerning the appointment of instructors as clinical without going through the stated process and to position classifications not provided for in the policy. Sashi stated that these concerns are about policy not the individuals. Steering and the Dean's office discussed this issue over numerous meetings without resolution.

Sashi was subsequently informed this morning that while the position titles incorporate "clinical," the actual rank is instructor for the two individuals.

Associate Dean Hart confirmed that the policies are to be followed and the policies were followed last summer when two instructors were provided clinical titles. However, the various issues are moot as official promotions never occurred last summer. Dr. Hart then discussed the importance of clinical positions and asked the faculty to re-open a discussion.

Dean Gropper discussed reasons in support of having clinical professor positions. He then indicated his displeasure with discussing this issue and how we may be treating our colleagues. The Dean took ultimate responsibility for the two decisions.
